

Working safely with men who use family violence in First Nation communities

PHASE 2

The focus of this FREE training will be to build on the first-round delivery with refresher training, and introduce and provide guidance on the development of a reflective practice process to address individual, inter-generational and community trauma experiences by those attending the training. Combining two worldviews to fit within each others systems when working with First Nation men.

Key components of Phase 2 training are:

- Further exploration of the Southern Cross Model
- Narrative approach (connecting/engagement)
- Increase understanding – Yarning together
- Increase learning – Planning together
- Increase tools – Determining together
- Moving forward – Implementing together

Online training dates and locations

Geraldton

30th October and 2nd November 2020

Broome/Kununurra

5th and 6th November 2020

Cairns

19th and 20th November 2020

26th and 27th November 2020

Alice Springs

10th and 11th December 2020

Please share amongst your networks, happy for you to enrol in any day that suits you if you cannot attend the location dates.

If you have any further questions, please don't hesitate to contact Kyalie Moore on mobile 0478142063 or email kyaliem@ntv.org.au for an enrolment link.