COVID Update

KAMS clinics and member services have been offering COVID vaccines through the month of July. With the delta strain of COVID 19 causing lockdowns and death on the East coast of Australia we need to be more proactive than ever in protecting our communities by getting vaccinated. Call your local clinic to book in to get vaccinated today.

Connection Between Family, Kinship and Social and Emotional Wellbeing

Rob McPhee alongside Pat Dudgeon, Shol Blustein, Abigail Bray, Tom Calma, and Ian Ring were involved with producing a paper around the Connection Between Family, Kinship and Social and Emotional Wellbeing

Published on the 14th of July 2021 this paper primary focus on the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people are burdened by trauma.

Trauma is compounded by family violence and substance misuse, as well as the stress caused by personal, cultural and institutional racism. Healthy, supportive, loving and nurturing connections to family and kinship networks help Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people to flourish. In turn this leads to cultural continuity, the preservation of traditional culture.

Strengthening connections to family should be embedded in any suicide prevention interventions and initiatives, and culturally safe and responsive work.

To have a read of the paper see click below <https://www.indigenoumhspsc.gov.au/Publications/family-kinship>

WKFL Suicide Awareness Round

Also, this month KAMS SEWB Team in collaboration with Nirrumbuk supported a suicide awareness round.

The Looma Eagles played off against the Cable Beach Football Club and both teams were presented with best player on ground also medals for both Women's and Men's Teams.

Kimberley Aboriginal Suicide Prevention Trial [KASPT] Update

The Kimberley Aboriginal Suicide Prevention Trial has been fortunate enough to receive an extension of time until December 2021, this will support communities with substantial underspends to create and continue their activities.

KIMBERLEY
Aboriginal Suicide Prevention Trial

As mentioned in last month's newsletter, KASPT will be employing 2 regional Community Liaison Officers (CLO). One potential CLO will be based in the East and one in the West Kimberley to help communities with mapping the sustainability and execution of these activities. As this is an ongoing process, more information about the CLO positions will be updated where possible.
